To Whom it may Concern,

I am writing with great concern about what the NAB is trying to do to satellite radio. I am a Commercial Truck Driver that subscribed to XM Radio with the traffic and weather reports in mind. Public Radio does a terrible job reporting it. They do it when they get around to it, and I can not afford to wait an hour to get it. I get paid to drive, not to sit and wait for the traffic and weather. Satellite Radio is the best thing that ever happened to radio. The instant traffic and weather has been a great service to me, and worth every penny that I pay for my subscription. Not to mention commercial free music, and not the same crap every hour on the hour. They keep the reports updated very well and provide a service that public radio can not. I need to know what the traffic and weather is like before I get there in order to prepare for what I am facing, not find it when I get there. Knowing what is going on ahead of me before I get there prevents bigger traffic jams and problems if we subscribers are able to have the information when we need it. It will make the roads a lot safer for the police, fire, rescue, and the general public if we have the information available when we need it, and not when public radio gets around to telling us about it.

Thanks for your time and please consider the benefits it provides us all.

Sincerely,

Cory Brownson
